For he New Era. Lines to a Coquette,

Alas and must we part indeed ! And will you from my love be freed?

Ah, yes I to plead there is no need, Your heart is hard as stone . One time there was you loved me so, That to my quiz you'd not say no. But now you more coquettish grow,-

But the next chance you get, you lay Another gin right in the way Of the first who perchance may stray : Him you profess t' adore. All goes on well, at him you cast Those winning eyes until at last When you think you have got him fast, You turn him from your door.

He pleads and greeves, but tears are vain, You from laughter can scarce contain To think the fool will thus complain, O'er such a small affair. You tell him men must be iusane, To let love get so deep in brain, That it can't be got out again .-

You tell him there are other men You fore better than him or Pen! And that there are other wonien, Then bid him go and seek. He gives one sigh of bitter grief, And then through tears he seeks relief; But o'er his woe, I must be brief. It lasts from week to week.

At length a better minx than you He finds : who proves to him most true, And now is happy the week through, And does not grieve or fret. But you who did unfaithful prove. And use deceit, and jillflirt love, Will find too late, (serperginous dove.) What 'tis to act Coquette.

17 The Leader thinks the present Coalition has answered every good purpose it is capable of, and considers a change necessary. The country has thought so for months past, and rejoices in the prospect of another election.

Mr. Mackenzie advocates, in his Message, petitioning to the Home Government to dissolve the Union with the Frenchmen, instead of making so much exertion to secure the Maine Law, while Lower Canada mombers are against it.

How the game will turn, it is imposible to tell, as Cayley cant't figure with the new Governor of Barbadoes. Last session four millions and a half of dollars were granted this firm; and then it was urged this would be the last demand, but they are now at it again. Canada is certainly a great country; but what shall we say of her public men? and of the manner in which they carry on her public works? To secure place and power, they are running us into an ocean of boundless dobt. Who'll pay?

We are again compelled to notice the non-delivery of our papers at the King Post Office. Strange Developements.

The astounding declaration made by the Attorney Gen. East, on the 26th ult., appears to have taken the members quite by sur. of both. prise, and also the country. The House was discussing the Legislative Council Bill, and as that measure did not provide that the Electoral District should be based upon population the opposition sorely pressed them on this point. The Ministry fairly raved; but failing to produce the necessary effect, 11on. Mr. Drummond rose and declared that should To the Editor of the New Era. To the Editor of the New Era. Six-Having seen a paragraph in your paper of last week, that S. Trent, Esq., of Oakley Farm, has produced the best beet in Toronto, I felt it my duty (knowing for a fact it was otherwise.) to correct the mistake which has arisen. I have seen the cattle of Mr. Trent's alive and dead. They certainly are very good, but as to say they they were the best and were sold for the highest prices, is quite a mistake, as I can certify There were several cattle in your much higher prices. Further it was stated that the above cattle were three years old; but another three should have been added; for I am sure that two of the cattle were over six years old. I have not written this with any ill-feeling towards Mr. Trent, but I did not wish the public should be misguided by supposing that there are no feeders to compete with Mr. Trent. Yours respectfully, JAS. HALLIDAY. March, 25, 1856.

We used every means within our power, employed the most skilful physicians, and after their vain attempts, had recourse to some of the most popular nostrums for the cure of consumption, but all to no purpose, he gradually grew worse. In 1853 he became so feeble and emaciated as to be obliged to keep his bed, his feet and legs became swollen, perspired profusely at nights, expectorated dark feetid corruption, had chills and fever alternately, in fact all who knew or saw him pronounced him in the last state of consumption, tf-17 and a victim for the grave. At his own request we sent for you, but without the slightest hepe of receiving any benefit, still as you have flattered him with a hope, he commenced using your Balsam, and after taking some half dezen bottles, began slowly to recover, till in three months' time he was restored to perfect health.
